ISBT-Equine Bowen Therapy is a stand-alone manual therapy or it can be very successfully incorporated with many other modalities.

The International School of Bowen Therapy (ISBT) Directors Lisa Black and Col Murray developed ISBT-Bowen Therapy based on the principles and practices of their understanding of the work of Australian bodywork genius Tom Bowen (1916-82).

Next (Human) Module One (as prerequisite for Equine course)

Melbourne - February 15/16, 2014

Reduced Cost for Equine Course Applicants - $395.00

The course presents ISBT-Bowen Therapy on horses but the principles may be applied on many other large animals.

ISBT[®] ISBT-BowenTherapy

Course Prerequisites:

1. Completion of ISBT human Foundation Course Module One or equivalent. ISBT believes this is essential for students to gain an understanding of palpation and the level of pressure required and that without this experience and understanding of the techniques, it is not possible to correctly and safely apply this work on animals.

2. Proof of appropriate horse handling skills. Applicants must be horse owners or will need to show documented proof they are experienced in horsemanship and stable management.

3. Completion of a human and/or equine Bowen Therapy course with another institution may also qualify as an appropriate prerequisite.

Course curriculum:

Areas covered in Level One include:

- Full Back and Neck
- Sacrum
- Shoulders
- Hamstrings

Additional subjects covered include:

- Assessment Procedures

Module One (Humans):

This module of two days enables students to learn work that can be a dynamic treatment of the full back and neck, plus hamstrings and shoulders. These correspond to the equine areas included in Level One ISBT-Equine Bowen Therapy.

Participating in part or in the full human course will also be useful for students to be able to treat horse riders. Many riders have back/pelvic problems, which may cause them to sit incorrectly and restrict movement. An unbalanced rider can cause the horse back pain, create resistance, stiffness, lameness and general poor performance.

Course Presenter

Suzanne Baker

B.Sc. D.C. Dip.Acc.

ISBT is pleased to announce the appointment of leading international equine physical therapist and competitor, Suzanne Baker, to its team. Suzanne will be presenting courses in equine and canine ISBT-Bowen Therapy.

Based in Hong Kong at the world-famous Sha Tin horse racing complex, Suzanne is a former international three-day eventing and dressage competitor, representing England.

Suzanne achieved a degree in Chiropractic in 1991. She is a member of the McTimoney Chiropractic Association, and qualified to treat both humans and animals. She worked in practice in the UK, treating human patients in a busy chiropractic clinic. She additionally treated a large number of canine and equine patients, from racing greyhounds to dachshunds, and racehorses to Olympic dressage horses.

Suzanne moved from the UK to Hong Kong with her family in 1996 and has been treating racehorses at Sha Tin complex ever since.

She was invited to join the veterinary team for the Asia Games and the South East Asia Games and was also honoured to be asked to assist the veterinary team as physical therapist for the Beijing Olympics.

In 2007 Suzanne studied the ISBT-Bowen Therapy human course and started trialing the concepts on animals. After an extensive period of clinical studies, in concert with ISBT directors Lisa Black and Col Murray, Suzanne developed the animal courses, presenting unique concepts and strategies.
