

Pets Australia Pet First Aid Course

A simple and easy to understand First Aid course for pet businesses and a great loyalty builder for clients of pet businesses. This is the ONLY course in Australia trained by qualified veterinarians, and the ONLY course in Australia completely up to date with the latest worldwide knowledge on basic emergency care.

Training is done in groups of 8-15 with live dogs, this "hands on" in-service training includes:

- what's normal and what's not (and what's an emergency!),
- bandaging,
- bleeding,
- heat stroke,
- all the new information on poisonings,
- detecting heart/pulse/breathing rates,
- how to ship an animal to hospital safely,
- the new information on CPR for pets, including abdominal methods
- environmental dangers,
- new information on snake bite in pets
- new information on ticks

and lots of other things that you will need in your business or for your pet.

If you are a member business, attract attention and gain loyalty by offering this course to your clients! Pets Australia provides the trainer, all course materials, registration forms, marketing posters, advertising on the Pets Australia website, administration of moneys, and you get a small site fee as well! You provide the venue, a light lunch, and possibly the load of some dogs. It's usually held on a Sunday or a Monday – days when your business is normally closed or not operating at full capacity.

If you are not a member of Pets Australia, you can still host a course! Pets Australia will assist with everything above, but you will not receive a site fee.
